Commie Boss In Viet Nam Said Ruthless

TOKYO (AP) — A shadowy but famous Marxist ruler of a little known corner of Southeast Asia suddenly has become the direct adversary of the United States, his torpedo boat nests the targets of American bombs.

Straggly-bearded Ho Chi Minh, one time cabin boy, cook and Soviet follower, is regarded by many in his democratic Republic of (North) Viet Nam — and by quite a few in South Viet Nam — as his country's greatest patriot, the undisputed leader of Indochina's war for independence from France.

Behind his benign exterior hides one of the most single-minded, skillful and ruthless Communists. From his headquarters in North Viet Nam, he leads a force in the south that calls itself revolutionary fighters of the National Liberation Front, better known as the Viet Cong (Vietnamese Communists).

Its driving force is said to be about 25,000 men trained as guerrillas by Ho's northern Communist regime. These are the enemies of the expanded forces of American advisers to the young Republic of (South) Viet Nam, which is fighting to break the Communist stranglehold threatening its existence.

The two Vietnamese republics that face each other across the 17th Parallel are the troubled offspring of the Indochina war which Ho Chi Minh brought to an end in 1954. By crushing the flower of French colonial armies at Dien Bien Phu, Ho's guerrilla army of 110,000 men conquered a French Union force that once totaled 700,000 men during the seven-year war.

Ho expected to dictate terms to the defeated French, but French and Soviet pressure forced him to postpone total control of Viet Nam in favor of a divided country.

Five years later, convinced that unity could never be achieved on their terms, Ho's Communists began the guerrilla campaign against the south, then led by Ngo Dinh Diem.

Even before Ho's torpedo boats attacked U.S. destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin this week, there had been increasing talk in Asia and in the United States of the possibility of American attacks on North Viet Nam as a means of halting aid to the Communist guerrillas in the south.

Ho previously had scoffed at this possibility.

Despite his derision, Ho is probably deeply worried over the effects of an American-South Viet Nam strike at the north or the possibility of open warfare between the north and the south.

Should the Vietnamese military situation deteriorate, Red China's Mao Tse-tung might well carry out his repeated promises to come to the aid of North Viet Nam. Ho, remembering Viet Nam's history as vassal and satellite of the old Chinese Empire for 1,000 years, no doubt fears his polite Chinese friends even more than he does his anti-Communist enemies.

Bicycle Rider Killed in Crash On W. High St.

James Douglas Goeller, 12, became Circleville's second car-bicycle crash fatality in two months when his bike collided with an auto 4:48 p. m. yesterday on W. High St.

The youngster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew W. (Bill) Goeller, 1040 Atwater Ave., died at 5:10 p. m. in Berger Hospital. Police attributed death to massive head injuries.

Driver of the car was Glenn E. Lutz, 18, of 540 E. Union St. The accident was about 165 feet west of Court St.

According to Lutz and witnesses, young Goeller pulled out from behind an eastbound truck into the path of the car which was headed west on High St. They said the truck had just stopped for the traffic light.

OFFICERS said the bike rider apparently was on his way home.

According to Patrolman Richard Blaney, the bicycle was found lodged under the front of the Lutz car about 65 feet from the point of impact.

The bike was demolished and the front of the auto was damaged, Patrolman Blaney said. Witnesses said the Lutz car had just turned off Court St. and was heading on west.

Police Chief Robert Temple today urged all motorists and bicycle riders alike to exercise the utmost cooperation and effort in observing traffic laws.

Chief Temple said his department will make every possible effort to stress the need for caution on the part of both young bike riders and vehicle drivers. He said the two tragic car-bike fatalities here in two months make this a must.

Alarmed by the two recent deaths, the chief asserted that he will check with the city solicitor concerning ordinances on bicycle traffic regulations. He said if necessary he will seek legislation authorizing impounding bicycles of riders found in violation of the law.

No traffic violations were indicated by police. Officers said

Ferris Wheel Ride Record Is Claimed

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP)—A 15-year-old Sidney girl rode the Ferris Wheel at the Shelby County Fair here continuously for nine hours and 35 minutes Wednesday night and thinks she may have set a world's record for the feat.

Glenda Piper boarded the ride at 2:32 p. m. and remained on it until 12:03 a. m.

William Steward, fair secretary, said the old Ferris Wheel riding record was believed to be seven hours, 49 minutes, set in Canton last year.

Harsha Urges Dam Building Be Done by Army Engineers

Plans calling for property owners in the Scioto Conservancy District to pay the costs on flood control measures were criticized this week by Congressman William H. Harsha, Ohio Sixth District.

An advocate for development of dams in the Scioto watershed, Harsha emphasized that steps should be taken to have the U. S. Army Engineers build the two controversial Alum and Mill Creek reservoirs in Franklin County.

A flood control proposal by the Scioto Conservancy District calls for assessments against benefited property owners in Pickaway, Franklin and Ross Counties, all members of the five-county Scioto District.

Many protests have been filed against the proposal, including initial steps by Circleville Council to oppose the plan. The deadline for filing exceptions is Aug. 17.

HARSHA announced today that he has joined Congressman Samuel Devine of Columbus in requesting a supplemental appropriation of $100,000 for advanced planning funds for Alum Creek Reservoir.

LBJ's Military Effort Backed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two top Senate committees overwhelmingly approved today a resolution giving bipartisan backing to President Johnson's military actions in Southeast Asia.

The Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees spied the resolution to the Senate floor for what Democratic and Republican leaders hoped would be quick passage there.

They did so after Secretary of State Dean Rusk asked them to put Congress on record as leaving Communist aggressors "in no doubt whatever" of the unity and determination of the American people to defend Southeast Asia against Red aggression.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee also set a hearing, with its schedule calling for House passage Friday.

The speed of the schedule underscored the gravity with which Congress and the President view the two attacks by North Vietnamese PT boats on U.S. destroyers in international waters of the Gulf of Tonkin off the North Vietnamese coast.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., long a critic of U.S. Asian policy, denounced the resolution as "a predated declaration of war" and told the Senate he would not support it, either in the Foreign Relations Committee or on the floor.

But he ran up against a swelling tide of support for the President's actions against the North Vietnamese, fed by growing indignation against the North Vietnamese Communist regime.

The bill carries funds for many water projects around the country for the year which started July 1.

The bill has already been approved by the House. The Senate committee-approved version is $100 million more than the bill passed by the House. No changes in the House-approved figures for the Ohio area projects were made by the Senate Committee, however.

New Health Care Fight Under Way

WASHINGTON (AP) — A last-ditch fight to enact a Social Security - financed health care plan for the elderly this year opens today in the Senate Finance Committee.

Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze appears to testify for the administration plan which would provide hospitalization, nursing home, diagnostic and home health visit benefits.

This proposal, known as the King-Anderson bill, was beaten 52 to 48 in a Senate showdown fight in 1962.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., leading the fight for the proposal in the absence of its chief sponsor, Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., said he doubted it could win approval in the Finance Committee.

But Gore said he was confident that there had been sufficient change in the Senate in the last two years that the 1962 vote could be reversed.

Anderson, who underwent an operation at Albuquerque two weeks ago, may return in time to help in the fight.

Gore offered the health care amendment as an addition to the Social Security benefits in a bill which passed the House last week.

Fair Is Graced By Fine Weather

Fairgoers have been promised ideal weather for the remainder of today's activities with sunny skies and mild temperatures.

The weatherman said today that a warming trend with cloudy skies will move into the area late tonight and showers can be expected for tomorrow afternoon.

Hundreds of children enjoyed the fair yesterday at specially reduced prices for most rides and concessions during Youth Day.

A highlight of activities yesterday for the youngsters was a drawing for two bicycles given away by the Fair Board. Free tickets on the bikes were distributed to merchants well in advance of the drawing for the kiddies.

A VARIETY of events are on the calendar for today's Fair visitors.

In addition to the regular features and exhibits, the first half of the Junior Fair Livestock Sale will be held beginning 8 p. m. in the show arena.

Until this year, the event was held on Friday night, but due to the large number of animals to be sold the sale has been divided. Tonight's sale will offer the county's top steers raised by young farmers and entered in Junior Fair competition. Sheep and swine will be sold tomorrow.

A top drawing card for this evening will be the grandstand attraction Buzzy McCammon's Auto Thrill Show which will get under way at 8 p. m. This type show has been a big attraction at the Pickaway County Fair for the last few years.

Earlier in the evening, at 7 p. m., the Pickaway County Historical Society will present its Style Show and concurrently with the grandstand feature, the 4-H Grand Revue in home economics will be held in the Grange 4-H Building.

Hiroshima Honors Its Atomic Bomb Dead

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP) — Residents laid wreaths today in memory of Hiroshima's nuclear dead as this rebuilt city of half a million people marked the 19th anniversary of the U.S. atomic bomb attack.

Some 78,000 persons died in the attack when an American plane dropped the bomb over the center of the city on Aug. 6, 1945.

Delegates from 40 foreign nations to the Socialist-sponsored ban-the-bomb conference attended the memorial services.

Yanks Alert In Viet Nam

No Peking Move Seen Developing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States pressed its military buildup in Southeast Asia today as officials watched for any clue Red China might ignore President Johnson's warning and start its troops marching.

Many officials here doubted they would. They expressed belief Peking would, in general, confine itself to mounting a propaganda attack, which is already under way.

The Communist Chinese charged the United States with aggression against North Viet Nam and declared "U.S. imperialism" has gone over the brink of war. They said the "Chinese people will absolutely not sit idly by without lending a helping hand" to prevent North Viet Nam from being "subject to aggression."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk termed the situation explosive in the aftermath of the "very successful" American air strikes against Communist North Viet Nam's patrol boat armada.

"We cannot be completely sure about what the days ahead of us may hold," Rusk said, and the administration braced for a siege of trouble in Southeast Asia.

As a precaution, the United States rushed more planes and ships — including the giant carrier Ranger and 12 destroyers from the West Coast — toward the crisis zone.

In South Viet Nam, transports roared out of the Saigon Airport in what appeared to be a giant airlift of troops and materials toward the North Viet Nam border to guard against the chance of an attack.

Activity was reported at a feverish pitch at the big coastal base of Da Nang, 80 miles from the Communist frontier. Six U.S. F102 jet interceptors landed at the base, sources said, and five South Vietnamese army divisions were said to be prepared to fight in the area.

In addition to the U.S. jets arriving in South Viet Nam, two squadrons of fighter aircraft have been ordered to Thailand, a U.S. Embassy spokesman in Bangkok announced.

And the President delivered a clear warning to Red China, or any other nation with a nervous trigger finger.

Addressing thousands of persons gathered at the Syracuse University campus, Johnson declared Wednesday: "To any who may be tempted to support — or to widen — the present aggression, I say this. There is no threat to any peaceful power from the United States of America. But there can be no peace by aggression, and no immunity from reply. That is what is meant by the action yesterday."

Bipartisan resolutions upholding the President's decision to fight back against North Vietnamese attacks were introduced in the Senate and House Wednesday and were expected to receive overwhelming approval Friday.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara detailed Wednesday the flaming havoc wrought by the bombs and rockets of U.S. carrier planes in retaliation for Red PT boat attacks on U.S. destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin.

In 64 sorties, he said, Navy carrier planes destroyed or damaged some 25 patrol boats, heavily damaged four torpedo boat bases and demolished an oil depot capable of storing 10 percent of North Viet Nam's petroleum. Smoke from the oil tanks soared 14,000 feet.

McNamara said reconnaissance flights confirmed the air strikes were "very successful" and that the immediate crisis in the gulf was over.

Lumber Yard Burns

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three buildings and the entire mill at the Forest City Material Co., a lumber yard on the west side, were destroyed in a spectacular multi-alarm fire Wednesday night. Damage estimates ranged as high as $1 million.

Midway Chatter

Certainly one of the busier persons at the Fair the past two days had to be Emmitt Ebenhack. On Tuesday he was in the swine barn, assisting his son, Tommy prepare his projects, a market hog and a breeding gilt, for the show. In the afternoon he drove Sugar Road in the speed program and then had to go directly to Scioto Downs for a full night of racing. Wednesday he was back at the Fair, dividing his time between the Junior Fair and the horse barns. He entered and won the first race with Miss Delightful.

John Fissell, race secretary, extended his appreciation to the public for supporting the race program at the Fair. He noted the speed committee was able to provide 66 entries for the two-day race card.

One farm wife, Nancy Wright, Route 1, was asked if she was exhibiting anything at the Fair. Her answer was brief and good humored. "Yes, — kids." Mrs. Wright's two oldest daughters are 4-H members.

The early morning scene in the Junior Fair livestock barns is one of great activity. Usually by 6 a. m. 4-H and FHA exhibitors have started grooming their animals for the show, even though showtime is three hours or more away.

We overheard Mrs. John Beck's son telling her in no uncertain terms that he did not consider it fair to pay the babysitter with his money. The same young fellow was heard putting up an argument that his mother owed him a nickel.

Mrs. Beck remonstrated and asked her son how he got that notion. His reply was "You owe me my next week's allowance."

Fair visitors who have seen the Brazilian mice are glad they live in the good old U.S.A. The mice are as big as rabbits.

When Helen Stant was summoned to the cattle barn because her son, Johnny, wanted to see her, she hurried there on the double. She figured Johnny's nose had started bleeding again. On arrival she found him in charge of a smiling infant. He had offered to baby sit for a 4-H adviser and he figured his mother would get a bang out of seeing him in this role.

When we heard that several nervous steers were being given tranquilizers we wondered if this might be sporting. We were told yes. Jerry Baylous's steer ranted around in such a cantankerous fashion he had to be given (Continued on Page Two)

New Health Care Fight Under Way

WASHINGTON (AP) — A last-ditch fight to enact a Social Security - financed health care plan for the elderly this year opens today in the Senate Finance Committee.

Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze appears to testify for the administration plan which would provide hospitalization, nursing home, diagnostic and home health visit benefits.

This proposal, known as the King-Anderson bill, was beaten 52 to 48 in a Senate showdown fight in 1962.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., leading the fight for the proposal in the absence of its chief sponsor, Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., said he doubted it could win approval in the Finance Committee.

But Gore said he was confident that there had been sufficient change in the Senate in the last two years that the 1962 vote could be reversed.

Anderson, who underwent an operation at Albuquerque two weeks ago, may return in time to help in the fight.

Gore offered the health care amendment as an addition to the Social Security benefits in a bill which passed the House last week.

$50,000 Trust Fund Left for Dogs, Cats

AMESBURY, Mass. (AP) — Two dogs and two cats have a trust fund of more than $50,000. Annie E. Webster, 84, of Amesbury, who died June 8, directed in her will that the bulk of her $68,000 estate, after $14,000 in charitable bequests, should be placed in trust for pets.

The will directed that the dogs and cats be permitted to live the rest of their lives in her home and that they are to be given "a proper burial when they die."

Don Reed Shows Champion Lambs

A member of the New Holland Livestock 4-H Club copped two honors in two classes of judging during yesterday's Junior Fair Sheep Show.

Don Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Reed, New Holland, exhibited the Grand Champion market lamb and received the trophy for his champion pen of three market lambs. Reed's entries were Crossbred Southdowns.

The same breed, Crossbred Southdowns, also won Reserve Champion honors for an entry of Tom Duvall, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Duvall, of the Ashville area. Duvall is a member of the Madison Livestock 4-H Club.

Ralph Grimshaw, well-known sheepman of this area, judged the show which got under way about 9 a. m. yesterday and finished up with showmanship awards in late afternoon.

LINDA ALLEN won the Champion and Reserve Champion awards in the Shropshire breeding class. Mike Allen and Kim Long received Grand

Fair Is Graced By Fine Weather

Fairgoers have been promised ideal weather for the remainder of today's activities with sunny skies and mild temperatures.

The weatherman said today that a warming trend with cloudy skies will move into the area late tonight and showers can be expected for tomorrow afternoon.

Hundreds of children enjoyed the fair yesterday at specially reduced prices for most rides and concessions during Youth Day.

A highlight of activities yesterday for the youngsters was a drawing for two bicycles given away by the Fair Board. Free tickets on the bikes were distributed to merchants well in advance of the drawing for the kiddies.

A VARIETY of events are on the calendar for today's Fair visitors.

In addition to the regular features and exhibits, the first half of the Junior Fair Livestock Sale will be held beginning 8 p. m. in the show arena.

Until this year, the event was held on Friday night, but due to the large number of animals to be sold the sale has been divided. Tonight's sale will offer the county's top steers raised by young farmers and entered in Junior Fair competition. Sheep and swine will be sold tomorrow.

A top drawing card for this evening will be the grandstand attraction Buzzy McCammon's Awo Thrill Show which will get under way at 8 p. m.

This type show has been a big attraction at the Pickaway County Fair for the last few years.

Earlier in the evening, at 7 p. m., the Pickaway County Historical Society will present its Style Show and concurrently with the grandstand feature, the 4-H Grand Revue in home economics will be held in the Grange 4-H Building.

Hiroshima Honors Its Atomic Bomb Dead

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP) — Residents laid wreaths today in memory of Hiroshima's nuclear dead as this rebuilt city of half a million people marked the 19th anniversary of the U.S. atomic bomb attack.

Some 78,000 persons died in the attack when an American plane dropped the bomb over the center of the city on Aug. 6, 1945.

Delegates from 40 foreign nations to the Socialist-sponsored ban-the-bomb conference attended the memorial services.

Midway Chatter

Certainly one of the busier persons at the Fair the past two days had to be Emmitt Ebenhack. On Tuesday he was in the swine barn, assisting his son, Tommy prepare his projects, a market hog and a breeding gilt, for the show. In the afternoon he drove Sugar Road in the speed program and then had to go directly to Scioto Downs for a full night of racing. Wednesday he was back at the Fair, dividing his time between the Junior Fair and the horse barns. He entered and won the first race with Miss Delightful.

John Fissell, race secretary, extended his appreciation to the public for supporting the race program at the Fair. He noted the speed committee was able to provide 66 entries for the two-day race card.

One farm wife, Nancy Wright, Route 1, was asked if she was exhibiting anything at the Fair. Her answer was brief and good humored, "Yes, — kids." Mrs. Wright's two oldest daughters are 4-H members.

The early morning scene in the Junior Fair livestock barns is one of great activity. Usually by 6 a. m. 4-H and FHA exhibitors have started grooming their animals for the show, even though showtime is three hours or more away.

We overheard Mrs. John Beck's son telling her in no uncertain terms that he did not consider it fair to pay the babysitter with his money. The same young fellow was heard putting up an argument that his mother owed him a nickel.

Mrs. Beck remonstrated and asked her son how he got that notion. His reply was "You owe me my next week's allowance."

Fair visitors who have seen the Brazilian mice are glad they live in the good old U.S.A. The mice are as big as rabbits.

When Helen Stant was summoned to the cattle barn because her son, Johnny, wanted to see her, she hurried there on the double. She figured Johnny's nose had started bleeding again. On arrival she found him in charge of a smiling infant. He had offered to baby sit for a 4-H adviser and he figured his mother would get a bang out of seeing him in this role.

When we heard that several nervous steers were being given tranquilizers we wondered if this might be sporting. We were told yes. Jerry Baylous's steer ranted around in such a cantankerous fashion he had to be given (Continued on Page Two)

Yanks Alert In Viet Nam

No Peking Move Seen Developing

WASHINGTON (AP) The United States pressed its military buildup in Southeast Asia today as officials watched for any clue Red China might ignore President Johnson's warning and start its troops marching.

Many officials here doubted they would. They expressed belief Peking would, in general, confine itself to mounting a propaganda attack, which is already under way.

The Communist Chinese charged the United States with aggression against North Viet Nam and declared "U.S. imperialism" has gone over the brink of war. They said the "Chinese people will absolutely not sit idly by without lending a helping hand" to prevent North Viet Nam from being "subject to aggression."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk termed the situation explosive in the aftermath of the "very successful" American air strikes against Communist North Viet Nam's patrol boat armada.

"We cannot be completely sure about what the days ahead of us may hold," Rusk said, and the administration braced for a siege of trouble in Southeast Asia.

As a precaution, the United States rushed more planes and ships — including the giant carrier Ranger and 12 destroyers from the West Coast — toward the crisis zone.

In South Viet Nam, transports roared out of the Saigon Airport in what appeared to be a giant airlift of troops and materials toward the North Viet Nam border to guard against the chance of an attack.

Activity was reported at a feverish pitch at the big coastal base of Da Nang, 80 miles from the Communist frontier. Six U.S. F102 jet interceptors landed at the base, sources said, and five South Vietnamese army divisions were said to be prepared to fight in the area.

In addition to the U.S. jets arriving in South Viet Nam, two squadrons of fighter aircraft have been ordered to Thailand, a U.S. Embassy spokesman in Bangkok announced.

And the President delivered a clear warning to Red China, or any other nation with a nervous trigger finger.

Addressing thousands of persons gathered at the Syracuse University campus, Johnson declared Wednesday: "To any who may be tempted to support — or to widen — the present aggression, I say this. There is no threat to any peaceful power from the United States of America. But there can be no peace by aggression, and no immunity from reply. That is what is meant by the action yesterday."

Bipartisan resolutions upholding the President's decision to fight back against North Vietnamese attacks were introduced in the Senate and House Wednesday and were expected to receive overwhelming approval Friday.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara detailed Wednesday the flaming havoc wrought by the bombs and rockets of U.S. carrier planes in retaliation for Red PT boat attacks on U.S. destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin.

In 64 sorties, he said, Navy carrier planes destroyed or damaged some 25 patrol boats, heavily damaged four torpedo boat bases and demolished an oil depot capable of storing 10 percent of North Viet Nam's petroleum. Smoke from the oil tanks soared 14,000 feet.

McNamara said reconnaissance flights confirmed the air strikes were "very successful" and that the immediate crisis in the gulf was over.

Lumber Yard Burns

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three buildings and the entire mill at the Forest City Material Co., a lumber yard on the west side, were destroyed in a spectacular multi-alarm fire Wednesday night. Damage estimates ranged as high as $1 million.

Harsha

er than the Scioto Conservancy District.

Harsha said the present method of the Conservancy District in taxing property owners below the projects is discriminatory and in effect double taxation. He pointed out that present plans of the Scioto Conservancy District are to tax property owners in certain areas only, yet the benefits of these reservoirs will accrue throughout the Scioto River boundary and along the Ohio River.

THIS, the Congressman said is discrimination, making the property owners in some areas pay for the benefits that will accrue to other owners.

Furthermore, he stated construction of these projects by the Scioto Conservancy District will not reduce federal taxes one shilling thereby resulting in double taxation of the property owners in the area. Property owners will have to pay both the conservancy tax and federal tax.

Construction by the Conservancy District means simply, not a reduction in federal taxes, but that the money expended by the Corps of Engineers in construction would be spent in some other area of the United States instead of in Ohio, he added.

Federal construction of this type or multiple purpose project for flood control, water supply, fish and wildlife conservation and recreation has historically been recognized as a proper avenue of federal participation not only because of the enormous costs involved but because of the many benefits that accrue to the general public and welfare of the area as well as to abutting landowners, the congressman concluded.

He also will serve as chairman of the capital and operating budget committee.

Jet Bombers Now in Saigon

30 B57s Arrive
To Stand Watch

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — About 30 U.S. Air Force B57 jet bombers, capable of carrying nuclear weapons when fitted for combat, today joined American and South Vietnamese forces standing watch to meet any attack from the Communist North.

The fleet of high-flying, twin-engine Canberras sped to Saigon unheralded while a steady shuttle of transport planes circled overnight a buildup of troops and material in the area adjoining the North Vietnamese frontier.

But U.S. officials reported tonight there were casualties as the jet armada moved into the country under cover of darkness. They said four bombers crashed at or in the vicinity of Bien Hoa Airport, 15 miles north of Saigon, and that two pilots probably were killed.

Air traffic came to a virtual halt today. The general feeling in Saigon was that, if nothing important happened in the next 24 hours, the Gulf of Tonkin crisis probably would be past.

The alert status in South Viet Nam's capital was nowhere near what it would be if an attack were considered imminent. There was no public announcement of the arrival of the B57s but they were seen by a correspondent on a runway apron occupied Wednesday by six supersonic F102 Delta Dagger fighters from Okinawa. The F102s were gone, perhaps to augment defensive aerial forces at Da Nang, a base on the South China Sea 280 miles northeast of Saigon.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman discounted two Saigon rumors, which also lacked confirmation elsewhere. One was a story that Ho Chi Minh, president of North Viet Nam, had been replaced by a pro-Peking subordinate in the North Vietnamese Communist party. The other was that two squadrons of Soviet-made MIG fighters had been flown into North Viet Nam.

The spokesman said he "had nothing to back up" the rumor about Ho Chi Minh. He said he had no information about MIGs.

The spokesman said a United States note protesting North Vietnamese torpedo boat attacks Sunday and Tuesday against U.S. 7th Fleet ships has not yet been delivered.

"We are in touch with several channels on this matter," he said. The United States does not maintain diplomatic relations with North Viet Nam. One channel for delivery of the protest could be the three-nation International Control Commission overseeing the Geneva agreements that divided Viet Nam 10 years ago.

The spokesman said American and South Vietnamese military forces are prepared to meet any Red retaliation for the U.S. aerial counterattack Wednesday against North Viet Nam's torpedo boats and shore installations.

The United States is considering bringing in more air power if it is needed, he said, but there are no plans to increase the ground forces beyond the 5,000 recently announced. U.S. military personnel in South Viet Nam now number between 16,300 and 16,500.

Judge Mell G. Underwood of U. S. District Court directed probation Wednesday for Tracy Edwin Bauhan, 41-year-old cashier of the Harrisburg Savings and Banking Co. (Franklin, Pickaway counties) and Vincent Gerald Perez, 23, a teller for the Hilltop branch of the Ohio National Bank, Columbus.

Perez pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzling $3,680. Bauhan originally pleaded innocent. The information filed against him did not list the amount of money involved.

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — A Bowling Green State University mathematics professor who returned recently from a six months teaching tour in Moscow, says the Soviet Union is five years behind the United States in mathematics education.

Dr. Bruce R. Vogeli was the first American ever to teach at the Soviet Union's leading teacher training college, Moscow's Lennin Pedagogical Institute.

He said teaching methods and mathematics curricula are not at the same level as those in the United States, and said some of the material currently being taught Soviet college students would probably be found in American high schools.

Midway Chatter

en a quadruple dosage.

Alex Jones claims his steer is afraid of sawdust. He is asking the vet about a tranquilizer for him. When we saw the steer's horns we decided that this would be a good thing for all concerned.

Politickin' is goin' on even in the cattle barn. Alex named his steer "Barry" for the Republican presidential candidate.

The Macklin youngsters, Rick and Kathy, promptly named their steer Lyndon. Their uncle, Chuck Morris, is egging the kids on. They have boasted that their sign is going to outdo the Barry sign in size and brilliance if they have to make new signs each day.

The junior gardeners put on an excellent flower show. One of the youngest exhibitors was Brian Dunkel who won two blues and two reds. Brian, going on six, has gardened since he was a little fellow. His mother, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mast, have been consistent winners at the County Fair for a long time.

Handy Hatfield, Circleville Garden Club member, was largely responsible for the corner garden with the Washington Hawthorne. The tree drooped a little Monday night but with careful watering it has now regained its freshness. This garden, a woodland scene, has several varieties of named mosses. The mosses are labeled as well as the other material.

According to Leora Sayre, young Hatfield's assistant, he likes the Washington Hawthorne so much he'd like it for his own garden. The tree (balled and burlapped) was borrowed from a nursery.

The other garden, an exhibit of the Monrovia Garden Club, has a white picket fence to set it off. We notice youngsters bringing their parents to see the little fish which is sporting around in the miniature pool.

Stew Jones entered his first flower show this fair. He thinks it's kind of "scary", when the judging is going on. He won a third award. But he is proud of the fact that he grew all his own flowers for his exhibits.

To anybody who follows the livestock judging at the Pickaway County Fair, there is little doubt that the many 4-H and FFA Club members with exhibits can be justly proud.

Another example came today. After more than 100 steers had been judged in the first four classes, only four received a B grade — the others were all grade A. Every show can have a champion, but few can boast the overall quality of the junior fair here.

Open dairy show cattle and

Junior Fair beef steers were being judged simultaneously today in the junior fair arena. At one time there were more than 30 steers crowded into one end of the show ring while the other end was filled with dairy cattle. The judge of the beef show, whose job is no easy one for such large classes, was working under an added handicap of too little space.

Soviet Walking Tightrope in Viet Nam Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union uncomfortably walks a tightrope in the dangerous Southeast Asia situation.

Anything Premier Khrushchev's government does can be wrong and it seems embarrassed.

The blistering U.S. retaliation against Communist North Viet Nam's torpedo attacks on U.S. destroyers suddenly presented a new set of circumstances for which Moscow may have been unprepared.

Moscow and Soviet bloc reaction was slow in developing. When it came from Moscow it was in the form of a Tass news agency statement.

"Authoritative Soviet circles" denounced the U.S. action as heating up an already tense situation at the risk of broadened war. But this was not yet Khrushchev or the Soviet government. It was as if Khrushchev would have liked to have said to his tormentors in China and Asia, with whom he has been quarreling over Communist strategy for years, that they got themselves into the jam and could get themselves out.

Khrushchev could not do that. The least he could do was, as the Tass statement said, call the presence of U.S. planes and ships in the Tonkin Gulf unjustified and hostile toward both North Viet Nam and Red China.

Moscow seemed to be seeking time to get its bearings, to delay and impede the proceedings in the U.N. Security Council, called into urgent session at the request of the United States.

Much is on the line for Premier Khrushchev. He could hardly do less than he did, which will look like little to the Red Chinese.

These developments come at a time when the world Communist quarrel is headed toward a showdown. The Chinese say Khrushchev is too timid to lead the world revolution because he fears a U.S. "paper tiger."

If Khrushchev leaps hurriedly to North Viet Nam's side, he implicitly bows to China's arguments. If he does not, he risks permanent loss of those Communists around the world who believe with Peking that communism can be expanded only by armed revolutionary action.

Diplomats here predicted today the U.N. Security Council would invite both North and South Viet Nam to take part in debate on North Vietnamese attacks on American warships and U.S. retaliation.

Council President Sivert A. Nielsen of Norway suspended debate so he could sound out delegates to the 11-nation body on the proposal to hear representatives of the two Vietnamese governments. Nielsen said he believed he could convene the council again Friday to report results.

If the Communist North and pro-Western South both send spokesmen, it will probably produce a heated debate on the roles the United States, North Viet Nam and Red China play in South Viet Nam's war.

The debate opened Wednesday at the request of the United States, which asked for an urgent council meeting to consider "the serious situation created by deliberate attacks of the Hanoi (North Viet Nam) regime on United States naval vessels in international waters."

The question of Vietnamese participation in the debate was brought up by Soviet Delegate Platon D. Morozov, who introduced a resolution to have the council seek information from North Viet Nam relating to the U.S. complaint and to invite North Vietnamese representatives to take part in the debate.

Chief U.S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson said the United States had no objection to inviting North Vietnam but the South Vietnamese should be asked too.

Morozov said the United States could "do without the assistance of these flunkies," but he agreed to pull back his resolution and let Nielsen draw one up.

Stevenson charged that attacks on U.S. destroyers by North Vietnamese torpedo boats in the Gulf of Tonkin on Sunday and Tuesday were part of a plan to subjugate all Southeast Asia.

Stevenson said the U.S. counterblow Wednesday was "limited and measured" to discourage further acts of aggression. He said President Johnson had given him explicit instructions to assure the council that the U.S. mission in Asia is "peace."

He said the United States had acted in self-defense and in accord with the U.N. charter.

Harsha . . .

er than the Scioto Conservancy District.

Harsha said the present method of the Conservancy District in taxing property owners below the projects is discriminatory and in effect double taxation. He pointed out that present plans of the Scioto Conservancy District are to tax property owners in certain areas only, yet the benefits of these reservoirs will accrue throughout the Scioto River boundary and along the Ohio River.

THIS, the Congressman said is discrimination, making the property owners in some areas pay for the benefits that will accrue to other owners.

Furthermore, he stated construction of these projects by the Scioto Conservancy District will not reduce federal taxes one shilling thereby resulting in double taxation of the property owners in the area. Property owners will have to pay both the conservancy tax and federal tax.

Construction by the Conservancy District means simply, not a reduction in federal taxes, but that the money expended by the Corps of Engineers in construction would be spent in some other area of the United States instead of in Ohio, he added.

Federal construction of this type or multiple purpose project for flood control, water supply, fish and wildlife conservation and recreation has historically been recognized as a proper avenue of federal participation not only because of the enormous costs involved but because of the many benefits that accrue to the general public and welfare of the area as well as to abutting landowners, the congressman concluded.

Midway Chatter

en a quadruple dosage.

Alex Jones claims his steer is afraid of sawdust. He is asking the vet about a tranquilizer for him. When we saw the steer's horns we decided that this would be a good thing for all concerned.

Politickin' is goin' on even in the cattle barn. Alex named his steer "Barry" for the Republican presidential candidate.

The Macklin youngsters, Rick and Kathy, promptly named their steer Lyndon. Their uncle, Chuck Morris, is egging the kids on. They have boasted that their sign is going to outdo the Barry sign in size and brilliance if they have to make new signs each day.

The junior gardeners put on an excellent flower show. One of the youngest exhibitors was Brian Dunkel who won two blues and two reds. Brian, going on six, has gardened since he was a little fellow. His mother, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mast, have been consistent winners at the County Fair for a long time.

Handy Hatfield, Circleville Garden Club member, was largely responsible for the corner garden with the Washington Hawthorne. The tree drooped a little Monday night but with careful watering it has now regained its freshness. This garden, a woodland scene, has several varieties of named mosses. The mosses are labeled as well as the other material.

According to Leora Sayre, young Hatfield's assistant, he likes the Washington Hawthorne so much he'd like it for his own garden. The tree (balled and burlapped) was borrowed from a nursery.

The other garden, an exhibit of the Monrovia Garden Club, has a white picket fence to set it off. We notice youngsters bringing their parents to see the little fish which is sporting around in the miniature pool.

Stew Jones entered his first flower show this fair. He thinks it's kind of "scary", when the judging is going on. He won a third award. But he is proud of the fact that he grew all his own flowers for his exhibits.

To anybody who follows the livestock judging at the Pickaway County Fair, there is little doubt that the many 4-H and FFA Club members with exhibits can be justly proud.

Another example came today. After more than 100 steers had been judged in the first four classes, only four received a B grade — the others were all grade A. Every show can have a champion, but few can boast the overall quality of the junior fair here.

Open dairy show cattle and

Junior Fair beef steers were being judged simultaneously today in the junior fair arena. At one time there were more than 30 steers crowded into one end of the show ring while the other end was filled with dairy cattle. The judge of the beef show, whose job is no easy one for such large classes, was working under an added handicap of too little space.

Soviet Walking Tightrope in Viet Nam Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union uncomfortably walks a tightrope in the dangerous Southeast Asia situation.

Anything Premier Khrushchev's government does can be wrong and it seems embarrassed.

The blistering U.S. retaliation against Communist North Viet Nam's torpedo attacks on U.S. destroyers suddenly presented a new set of circumstances for which Moscow may have been unprepared.

Moscow and Soviet bloc reaction was slow in developing. When it came from Moscow it was in the form of a Tass news agency statement.

"Authoritative Soviet circles" denounced the U.S. action as heating up an already tense situation at the risk of broadened war. But this was not yet Khrushchev or the Soviet government. It was as if Khrushchev would have liked to have said to his tormentors in China and Asia, with whom he has been quarreling over Communist strategy for years, that they got themselves into the jam and could get themselves out.

Khrushchev could not do that. The least he could do was, as the Tass statement said, call the presence of U.S. planes and ships in the Tonkin Gulf unjustified and hostile toward both North Viet Nam and Red China.

Moscow seemed to be seeking time to get its bearings, to delay and impede the proceedings in the U.N. Security Council, called into urgent session at the request of the United States.

Much is on the line for Premier Khrushchev. He could hardly do less than he did, which will look like little to the Red Chinese.

Viet Nam Red Boss Fights U.S. Influence

Though the name of Ho Chi Minh is famous throughout the world, it is not his real one. No one quite knows what this man of many aliases was called when he was born in Nghe An, in North Annam, in 1890.

Son of a Vietnamese nationalist, he left Viet Nam in 1911 as a cabin boy aboard a French merchant ship, is said to have spent some time in the United States, worked as an assistant to the great French cook Escoffier in London, and from Germany reached Paris, where he got a job retouching photographs.

But his tastes were predominantly for politics and reading. Soon he joined the "League for the Rights of Man," the French Socialist party, and met such French socialist leaders as Leon Blum and Marcel Cachin.

Known as Nguyen Ai Quoc, he spent much time in European jails for his Socialist views. In 1919, with Cachin and others, he became a founding member of the French Communist party and wrote a book that soon became famous, "French Colonization on Trial." Smuggled into Indochina, it inflamed the passions of young patriots and made Nguyen Ai Quoc a household name there.

During World War II, the Allies in Chungking used the revolutionary movements in Indochina to gather intelligence and carry out sabotage against the Japanese. Nguyen Ai Quoc, known as a Communist, landed in jail in South China but he soon persuaded his captor, Gov Chang Fa-wei, that his group could do a better job than the Nationalists. To get him out of jail and supplies with the funds he needed from Chungking, Nguyen did a simple and easy thing: He changed his name to Ho Chi Minh, "The Enlightener."

Thus, when World War II ended, Ho had an underground army supplied, equipped and encouraged by the United States and its Allies. He was able to enter Hanoi — no longer, on the face of it, a Communist, since he had with shrewd forethought abolished the party some months earlier. Ho knew that in the struggle which would follow, he could lead Viet Nam not as a Communist but as a Nationalist. He kept up the fiction until 1951 when he formed the Lien Viet (United National Front) in which the Lao Dong (Communist) Workers' party was to the leading element.

During the long years of war against the French, Ho was cold-blooded in liquidating those who threatened his power or that of the Communists. At the time of victory in 1954 he was in absolute control.

Then came the division of the country.

Today, 10 years later, the north is reported caught in the grip of economic hard times, with black marketing, corruption, food shortages, unemployment and low wages.

There seems to be no accurate information available on the size of the North Vietnamese military establishment, but the general view is that it has grown considerably since the victory of 1954. American intelligence sources say the army numbers 250,000 men, the navy 1,000 and the air force 300.

South Vietnamese sources say there may be as many as 500,000 in the army. Nationalist Chinese officials put the figure at

In North Viet Nam today there is an uneasy balance between the pro-Chinese faction and the pro-Soviet headed by Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, the victor of Dien Bien Phu who is minister of defense. Le Duan, party secretary-general, is a close friend and protege of Ho's and thus keeps the old man's influence alive and constantly felt. He and Premier Pham Van Dong are regarded by most observers as more favorable to the Soviets than to the Chinese.

Ho has maintained this precarious balancing act not only domestically but in the world Communist movement as well.

State Hit For Removal Of Docks

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A Portage Lakes woman says she will challenge the state's removal of private docks along Turkeyfoot Lake for alleged failure to pay rental fees.

Mrs. Thomas E. Stewart threatened legal action after her dock and four others were removed Tuesday afternoon.

The State Division of Parks and Recreation is removing the docks, claiming failure to pay the $3 yearly rental fee since 1962. The state claims the rental fee under a law which authorizes charging rent on any structure extending over state-owned waters. The law has been on the books since 1952, but was not enforced until 1962.

Eli Sich, acting manager of Portage Lakes State Park, said removal of the docks would continue as work schedules permit. He said the owners could reclaim their docks by paying the rental fee and costs of removal.

Mrs. Stewart said she owns the land under her dock and the state had no right to remove the structure. She said her deed includes the land, which was flooded when the state increased the area of Turkeyfoot Lake a few years ago. Mrs. Stewart claimed the state never bought the land and that she still pays taxes on it.

A similar claim by Mrs. Mary Shrake is to be aired at a hearing before the Division of Parks and Recreation in Columbus Monday. She claims 14 acres of her land is now under water. Her three docks were spared Tuesday because of the pending hearing.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) It's taken quite awhile, but the comic strip is finally coming to network television.

The creators of "Yogi Bear" and "Huckleberry Hound," have now fathered a cartoon feature called "Jonny Quest," which as a new ABC entry will be a combination of humor and adventure. It will depart radically from the usual cartoon approach in that the characters will be humans and drawn with an attention to style and detail reminiscent of the wartime "Terry and the Pirates," but with overtones of "Flash Gordon," "Prince Valiant" and "Tom Swift."

A comic strip actually was tried several seasons back when an animated "Dick Tracy" was seen on some stations, but the new venture is much more sophisticated and elaborate.

ABC will launch the series in a 7:30-8 p.m. Friday spot, now reserved on all networks for programs attractive to small fry.

Joe Barbera, who with partner Bill Hanna dreamed up the show, says that because it is expected the children will watch it avidly, there will be no mad scientists or two-headed monsters. Nor will there be shooting and other gory disposition of villains.

All television and radio jumped energetically into coverage of the tense Viet Nam situation. The television networks did what they could to give pictorial emphasis to a story whose principal action was far out of camera range by concentrating on the speech-making by President Johnson and U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson.

All TV networks are prepared to pre-empt regular programming to report new developments. ABC plans a news special tonight, following CBS Wednesday night and NBC's on Tuesday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's most serious international crisis so far lacks the quick explosive potential of President Kennedy's Cuban missiles showdown, but Southeast Asia could still cause big trouble in the long run.

This is the opinion of administration insiders who worked both with the late president during the 1962 missiles confrontation and with Johnson in the decision to strike back at North Viet Nam's navy.

As Secretary of State Dean Rusk figures it, the Cuba affair saw the world's two great nuclear powers — the United States and the Soviet Union — on collision course. A push of the button then could have plunged the northern hemisphere into a nuclear holocaust.

In Viet Nam shots have been fired, but not atomic ones. Hanoi and Peking don't hold a nuclear trigger. And that, says Rusk, makes today's difficulty less of an immediate danger and incomparable "in any significant way to the Cuban missile crisis."

So far, so good. But what will happen later is loaded with uncertainty.

The U.S. counterattack was avowedly geared to keeping the fighting limited. Whether it spreads into a bigger war, say U.S. strategists, is up to the Reds — and they admittedly don't know just what the Communists will decide to do beyond firing a propaganda barrage and making threats.

Viet Nam Red Boss Fights U.S. Influence

Though the name of Ho Chi Minh is famous throughout the world, it is not his real one. No one quite knows what this man of many aliases was called when he was born in Nghe An, in North Annam, in 1890.

Son of a Vietnamese nationalist, he left Viet Nam in 1911 as a cabin boy aboard a French merchant ship, is said to have spent some time in the United States, worked as an assistant to the great French cook Escoffier in London, and from Germany reached Paris, where he got a job retouching photographs.

But his tastes were predominantly for politics and reading. Soon he joined the "League for the Rights of Man," the French Socialist party, and met such French socialist leaders as Leon Blum and Marcel Cachin.

Known as Nguyen Ai Quoc, he spent much time in European jails for his Socialist views. In 1919, with Cachin and others, he became a founding member of the French Communist party and wrote a book that soon became famous, "French Colonization on Trial." Smuggled into Indochina, it inflamed the passions of young patriots and made Nguyen Ai Quoc a household name there.

During World War II, the Allies in Chungking used the revolutionary movements in Indochina to gather intelligence and carry out sabotage against the Japanese. Nguyen Ai Quoc, known as a Communist, landed in jail in South China but he soon persuaded his captor, Gov. Chang Fa-wei, that his group could do a better job than the Nationalists. To get him out of jail and supplies with the funds he needed from Chungking, Nguyen did a simple and easy thing: He changed his name to Ho Chi Minh, "The Enlightener."

Thus, when World War II ended, Ho had an underground army supplied, equipped and encouraged by the United States and its Allies. He was able to enter Hanoi — no longer, on the face of it, a Communist, since he had with shrewd forethought abolished the party some months earlier. Ho knew that in the struggle which would follow, he could lead Viet Nam not as a Communist but as a Nationalist. He kept up the fiction until 1951 when he formed the Lien Viet (United National Front) in which the Lao Dong (Communist) Workers' party was to the leading element.

During the long years of war against the French, Ho was cold-blooded in liquidating those who threatened his power or that of the Communists. At the time of victory in 1954 he was in absolute control.

Then came the division of the country.

Today, 10 years later, the north is reported caught in the grip of economic hard times, with black marketing, corruption, food shortages, unemployment and low wages.

There seems to be no accurate information available on the size of the North Vietnamese military establishment, but the general view is that it has grown considerably since the victory of 1954. American intelligence sources say the army numbers 250,000 men, the navy 1,000 and the air force 300.

South Vietnamese sources say there may be as many as 500,000 in the army. Nationalist Chinese officials put the figure at

Lemon Buyer Pretty Peachy

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—The room was full of lovely maidens so charming that butter wouldn't melt in their mouths.

As a matter of fact, they were all so figure-conscious that most of them left the butter untouched on their plates.

The occasion was a luncheon for a group billed as "20 of the world's most beautiful girls" en route to a pageant at Long Beach, Calif., Aug. 14 where one will be named "Miss International Beauty."

Meeting beauty contestants is pretty much like sighting rhubarb pies at a county fair. You don't know much about the filling—but the crusts all begin to look much alike.

I was sitting there glumly forking at some tired peas and feeling rather sorry for myself. Then I met the pretty lemon buyer.

She came over and sat down

beside me and said that she was Erika Augustin, that she came from Vienna, and that she was "Miss Austria."

She had reddish-brown hair and eyes the color of a Mediterranean sky in spring.

Erika turned out to be friendly, affable and frank.

"I am no teen-ager," she admitted. She leaned across the table and confided, "I am 25."

Well, that made her different right away. A 25-year-old beauty contestant is about as rare as an octogenarian trying to climb Mt. Everest.

"I did this just for joking," she said. "It is the first contest I have entered."

"In Vienna I model sometimes. I had it in mind to be an actress. But I had to choose a serious work to earn money."

"I am secretary and buyer for a fruit firm. I travel to the South Tyrol and buy apples and pears, and I travel to Greece and buy oranges and lemons."

I dutifully asked the question you must ask all beauty contest entrants or they feel cheated.

"What are your...uh...uh..."

I said, Miss Austria drew herself up proudly.

"I am high one meter, 65 centimeters," she said.

"My other measurements are 97-57-94."

"Inches?" I inquired, taking notes furiously.

"No—centimeters," she replied. "I don't know what my measurements are in inches. All I know is that in Austria they are the best you can have. There are none better."

On this pleasant note we parted company. I left with the conviction that as a lemon buyer Erika was pretty peachy. The girl really knows her apple strudel.

A FABULOUSLY wealthy Argentine playboy dropped into a famous Paris art gallery with his wife one blustery December day and bought all the Picassos, Gauguins, Klee's, Hans Hoffmanns, and Jackson Pollocks in sight. "Well, that's done," he told his wife happily. "Now that the Christmas cards are out of the way, let's get started on the gifts we've got to buy."

Famous novelist William Styron has a four-year-old daughter who fancies herself as a connoisseur of fine music. She was listening intently to Leonard Bernstein leading his orchestra on TV one morning when her father inquired, "Do you know what they're playing?" The daughter answered haughtily, "I'm not sure, but I suspect it's one of those symphonies by Boat-Haven."

Critic Allan Pryce-Jones met a famous but fragile British authoress at a literary tea and asked, "What have you been up to since we last met about seven years ago?" She answered, "Well, for one thing, I'm a year older."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Is television harmful to the eyes?

Normal, healthy eyes have their own built-in protection against fatigue. But, like other muscles of the body, eye muscles feel the strain of overexertion.

Television cannot actually damage normal eyes, but moderation is recommended by eye specialists, to avoid strain. For children, especially, educators join in this suggestion for moderate TV viewing.

What is a goiter? Is there really a "goiter belt"?

A goiter is a visible and characteristic enlargement of the thyroid gland in the neck. It is often caused by an inadequate amount of iodine in the drinking water.

Certain inland areas, where the water supply is very low in iodine content, are known as "goiter belts." These areas must compensate for the deficiency by artificially supplementing the water supply or the diet with additional iodine.

Why do people yawn? The standard joking reply is

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Business executives are likely to take a calmer view of the Viet Nam military showdown than do traditionally more emotional stock traders.

The stock market's quick drop after the U.S.-North Viet Nam naval encounter was its normal reaction to uncertainty.

Business executives are more prone to keep an eye on the economy itself and find scant reason as yet for overhauling their plans.

Neither stock traders nor business management like uncertainty. And the possibilities they might read into the dramatic developments in Southeast Asia will give both pause.

But it's the volatile stock trader who will react first—here selling some stocks in flight from uncertainty and to cash in on paper profits, or buying others on the chance of a pickup in orders from a shooting war.

The economy is too strong, however, for what is still a brush war—and could prove to be only a minor one—to upset it.

Much of the excitement in the stock market comes from the in-and-out traders. They look for the quick profit, move fast to cut a feared loss. When they don't know what might happen, as was the case Tuesday, their instinct is to get out of the market while they're still ahead.

And many of them have a good chance just now to take sizable profits. The market has been climbing most of the time since November. Many stocks bought last December or January have sizable paper profits for the taking, and now are in the six months range for long-term capital gains accounting for tax purposes.

Business takes a longer view. A shooting war in Viet Nam, if it doesn't spread into a much wider conflict, won't upset the general prosperity. Nor will it enhance it.

A few companies may hope for more defense orders. Most U. S. corporations will expect orders and sales to stay on the present course—some companies helped by existing defense orders, many more prospering from high consumer demands.

The ups-and-downs of the stock market in the tense days just ahead could be far less significant for the economy in the long run than the headlines may make them seem. And most business decision-makers are well aware of this.

Private Ownership Question

By John Chamberlain

When labor opposes government ownership or control of any phase of the electrical power business, it ought to be news of the man-bites-dog variety. Yet far more fuss and furor resulted from Barry Goldwater's statement that some functions of TVA should be transferred to private ownership than is provoked by the present insistence of the United Mine Workers that the government should get out of its supporting role in the atomic reactor business.

Joseph E. Moody, who speaks for both the coal mine workers and the mine owners from his post as President of the National Coal Policy Conference, has conveyed the feeling of the miners in this matter to the Congressional Joint Committee on Atomic Energy. Mr. Moody's demands run directly counter to those of the Atomic Energy Commission. The AEC, trying to keep control of fissionable materials for as long as it can, has proposed a transition period lasting until 1971 in which fuel may be leased instead of sold outright if that is what private power companies desire. By leasing the fuel at a subsidized charge, the AEC is, in effect, in a position to guarantee an artificial market.

The coal people rather naturally object to this as unfair competition in fuels. Says Mr. Moody, "There is no valid reason for any delay in making private ownership of all special nuclear materials mandatory upon enactment of legislation. Moreover, there is no clear and present need for the government to guarantee artificial markets, using the taxpayers' money, for materials, special nuclear or other, which the operators of commercial nuclear power plants would like to dispose of at advantageous but fictitious values."

The utilities now using atomic fuel to manufacture electric power have, according to Mr. Moody, been on notice for three years that Congress has had private ownership of fissionable fuels in mind. This warning, says Mr. Moody, has given them plenty of time "to digest the economic impact, whatever it may be."

Mr. Moody is willing to permit the AEC to waive charges for private use of Commission-owned fuel for a period, provided contracts for such use have already been signed. But he thinks it only fair to coal that the present subsidized lease arrangements for the use of atomic fuels should not apply to new commitments.

"It is not too surprising," he says, "that most of those who profess to believe in private ownership of special nuclear materials nevertheless want a gradual transition period before it becomes mandatory, as well as the continuation of government-guaranteed buy-back of certain materials. It is clear, as Chairman Hollifield, in effect, pointed out during last year's Congressional hearings, that the nuclear industry, specifically the utilities, 'want a little private ownership but not too much.'"

At present the AEC is losing as much as $8 a gram on its purchase and long-term stockpiling of plutonium.

Lemon Buyer Pretty Peachy

NEW YORK (AP)—The room was full of lovely maidens so charming that butter wouldn't melt in their mouths.

As a matter of fact, they were all so figure-conscious that most of them left the butter untouched on their plates.

The occasion was a luncheon for a group billed as "20 of the world's most beautiful girls" en route to a pageant at Long Beach, Calif., Aug. 14 where one will be named "Miss International Beauty."

Meeting beauty contestants is pretty much like sight-judging rhubarb pies at a county fair. You don't know much about the filling—but the crusts all begin to look much alike.

I was sitting there glumly forking at some tired peas and feeling rather sorry for myself. Then I met the pretty lemon buyer.

She came over and sat down

beside me and said that she was Erika Augustin, that she came from Vienna, and that she was "Miss Austria."

She had reddish-brown hair and eyes the color of a Mediterranean sky in spring.

Erika turned out to be friendly, affable and frank.

"I am no teen-ager," she admitted. She leaned across the table and confided, "I am 25."

Well, that made her different right away. A 25-year-old beauty contestant is about as rare as an octogenarian trying to climb Mt. Everest.

"I did this just for joking," she said. "It is the first contest I have entered."

"In Vienna I model sometimes. I had it in mind to be an actress. But I had to choose a serious work to earn money."

"I am secretary and buyer for a fruit firm. I travel to the South Tyrol and buy apples and pears, and I travel to Greece and buy oranges and lemons."

I dutifully asked the question you must ask all beauty contest entrants or they feel cheated.

"What are your ... uh...uh..."

I said, Miss Austria drew herself up proudly.

"I am high one meter, 65 centimeters," she said.

"My other measurements are 97-57-94."

"Inches?" I inquired, taking notes furiously.

"No—centimeters," she replied. "I don't know what my measurements are in inches. All I know is that in Austria they are the best you can have. There are none better."

On this pleasant note we parted company. I left with the conviction that as a lemon buyer Erika was pretty peachy. The girl really knows her apple strudel.

A FABULOUSLY wealthy Argentine playboy dropped into a famous Paris art gallery with his wife one blustery December day and bought all the Picassos, Gauguins, Klee's, Hans Hoffmann's, and Jackson Pollocks in sight. Famous novelist William Styron has a four-year-old daughter who fancies herself as a connoisseur of fine music. She was listening intently to Leonard Bernstein leading his orchestra on TV one morning when her father inquired, "Do you know what they're playing?" The daughter answered haughtily, "I'm not sure, but I suspect it's one of those symphonies by Boat-Haven."

Critic Allan Pryce-Jones met a famous but fragile British authoress at a literary tea and asked, "What have you been up to since we last met about seven years ago?" She answered, "Well, for one thing, I'm a year older."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Is television harmful to the eyes?

Normal, healthy eyes have their own built-in protection against fatigue. But, like other muscles of the body, eye muscles feel the strain of overexertion.

Television cannot actually damage normal eyes, but moderation is recommended by eye specialists, to avoid strain. For children, especially, educators join in this suggestion for moderate TV viewing.

What is a goiter? Is there really a "goiter belt"?

A goiter is a visible and characteristic enlargement of the thyroid gland in the neck. It is often caused by an inadequate amount of iodine in the drinking water.

Certain inland areas, where the water supply is very low in iodine content, are known as "goiter belts." These areas must compensate for the deficiency by artificially supplementing the water supply or the diet with additional iodine.

Why do people yawn? The standard joking reply is

Private Ownership Question

When labor opposes government ownership or control of any phase of the electrical power business, it ought to be news of the man-bites-dog variety. Yet far more fuss and furor resulted from Barry Goldwater's statement that some functions of TVA should be transferred to private ownership than is provoked by the present insistence of the United Mine Workers that the government should get out of its supporting role in the atomic reactor business.

Joseph E. Moody, who speaks for both the coal mine workers and the mine owners from his post as President of the National Coal Policy Conference, has conveyed the feeling of the miners in this matter to the Congressional Joint Committee on Atomic Energy. Mr. Moody's demands run directly counter to those of the Atomic Energy Commission. The AEC, trying to keep control of fissionable materials for as long as it can, has proposed a transition period lasting until 1971 in which fuel may be leased instead of sold outright if that is what private power companies desire. By leasing the fuel at a subsidized charge, the AEC is, in effect, in a position to guarantee an artificial market.

The coal people rather naturally object to this as unfair competition in fuels. Says Mr. Moody, "There is no valid reason for any delay in making private ownership of all special nuclear materials mandatory upon enactment of legislation. Moreover, there is no clear and present need for the government to guarantee artificial markets, using the taxpayers' money, for materials, special nuclear or other, which the operators of commercial nuclear power plants would like to dispose of at advantageous but fictitious values."

The utilities now using atomic fuel to manufacture electric power have, according to Mr. Moody, been on notice for three years that Congress has had private ownership of fissionable fuels in mind. This warning, says Mr. Moody, has given them plenty of time "to digest the economic impact, whatever it may be."

Mr. Moody is willing to permit the AEC to waive charges for private use of Commission-owned fuel for a period, provided contracts for such use have already been signed. But he thinks it only fair to coal that the present subsidized lease arrangements for the use of atomic fuels should not apply to new commitments.

"It is not too surprising," he says, "that most of those who profess to believe in private ownership of special nuclear materials nevertheless want a gradual transition period before it becomes mandatory, as well as the continuation of government-guaranteed buy-back of certain materials. It is clear, as Chairman Hollifield, in effect, pointed out during last year's Congressional hearings, that the nuclear industry, specifically the utilities, 'want a little private ownership but not too much.'"

At present the AEC is losing as much as $8 a gram on its purchase and long-term stockpiling of plutonium. Since plutonium is a by-product of civilian power reactors used in making electric power, the AEC is, in effect, promising to make a present to private power companies every time it guarantees a buy-back operation. The attitude of the coal people is that if "plutonium has potential value as a reactor fuel, private industry can be counted on to develop a market for this material on its own initiative."

If the mine workers are in arms against federal subsidy of electric power plants using atomic fuels, it is difficult to see why the same labor in the coal producing Appalachians should care when politicians attack the TVA. After all, water power is as much of an enemy of coal-derived power as is the atom. Yet it is considered suicidal to his chances in Appalachia when Barry Goldwater speaks up in favor of unsubsidized private power in Tennessee.

The only valid conclusion is that consistency in politics is not considered a virtue. There are things one "mustn't say," even if those things are entirely consistent with other things that one must say. Can it be that everyone "wants a little private ownership but not too much"?

Integration In Schools Is Urged

CLEVELAND (AP)—Paul W. Briggs, Cleveland's new superintendent of schools, says racial integration must be encouraged in local public schools.

Briggs advocated racial integration in part of an 18-page statement he read at a Board of Education meeting Tuesday. But his recommendations to the problem, considered one of his touchiest, were not as strong as those made recently by a Citizens Council on Human Relations.

The council, appointed by the school board last fall to study Cleveland's racial situation, completed its report in March. The new superintendent got a copy of that study which previously was not made public.

Briggs did not specifically endorse any of the study group's suggestions. These included busing of pupils, an open enrollment policy in secondary schools, changing the feeder patterns between grade and junior high schools, pairing of white and Negro schools, rezoning school boundaries and studying the use of education campuses.

"I have concluded that where segregation exists in some of the Cleveland schools this has not

Dear Abby: Those Suits Again

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When I first heard about the topless bathing suits for women I thought it was just a lot of talk. But yesterday I was shopping in one of our finest department stores, and I actually SAW one for sale! Is it possible that our American women would even consider wearing a topless swim suit in public? If so, we have indeed reached the lowest point in our so-called civilization. Even lower than the decadence which preceded the fall of the Roman Empire. Have we become so numb to indecency that nothing is sacred any more? We are at the same time striving for world peace. Who cares if Khrushchev pushes the button? What's left to save?

MOTHER OF GIRLS
DEAR MOTHER: The bottoms.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law has five grandchildren, two of which are my children. Ever since I can recall, on the mornings of their birthdays she would give me some cash and ask me if I minded buying them a present from her. She said it was hard for her to get around etc., etc. I have always bought the gifts and said nothing. The last time she asked me if I minded, I said, "Yes, I do mind," and I told her why. Abby, I have driven from one end of this town to the other while she personally shopped for gifts for her other grandchildren — her daughter's children — and if she can ask ME to drive her around while she shops for THEM, she can ask her daughter to drive her around while she shops for MINE. She told my husband, and he is furious with me. Was I wrong?

STANDING ALONE
DEAR STANDING: You were justified in feeling that you were not being treated fairly, but you'd have been wise to have said nothing. The daughter versus the daughter-in-law competition is as old as the marriage law, and you won't win that battle in one round.

DEAR ABBY: There is a boy in my neighborhood who used to like me, but he hasn't paid any attention to me for a whole year. Would it be all right if I called him up and asked him what I did to make him mad at me? I have asked all the kids he is friendly with if they know why he hardly ever says "hi" to me, and they say they don't know. Maybe if I could talk to him I could get him interested in me again, I am 15 and so is he.

3 Students To Present Piano Recital

A piano recital will be presented 4 p. m. Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church by three students of Mrs. R. E. Knecht.

Those who will participate are Susan Demjen daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Demjen, 1058 Lynwood Ave., Beverly Spencer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hal B. Spencer, 707 N. Pickaway St., and Gail Sprenger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sprenger, 325 Northridge Road.

Mrs. Knecht announced that the public is welcome to attend.

HUNG UP ON HIM
DEAR HUNG UP: Don't call him. And unless you want to kill any future interest he may have in you, don't ask his friends any questions about him. Forward females finish last.

DEAR ABBY: I read your column daily. May I comment on the "baby sitting" issue: When young people refuse to "sit" for their parents, or demand payment from their parents for this service, it is the PARENTS who have failed, not the children. They should have been taught respect for their elders at an early age.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Those Suits Again

DEAR ABBY: When I first heard about the topless bathing suits for women I thought it was just a lot of talk. But yesterday I was shopping in one of our finest department stores, and I actually SAW one for sale! Is it possible that our American women would even consider wearing a topless swim suit in public? If so, we have indeed reached the lowest point in our so-called civilization. Even lower than the decadence which preceded the fall of the Roman Empire. Have we become so numb to indecency that nothing is sacred any more? We are at the same time striving for world peace. Who cares if Khrushchev pushes the button? What's left to save?

MOTHER OF GIRLS
DEAR MOTHER: The bottoms.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law has five grandchildren, two of which are my children. Ever since I can recall, on the mornings of their birthdays she would give me some cash and ask me if I minded buying them a present from her. She said it was hard for her to get around etc., etc. I have always bought the gifts and said nothing. The last time she asked me if I minded, I said, "Yes, I do mind," and I told her why. Abby, I have driven from one end of this town to the other while she personally shopped for gifts for her other grandchildren — her daughter's children — and if she can ask ME to drive her around while she shops for THEM, she can ask her daughter to drive her around while she shops for MINE. She told my husband, and he is furious with me. Was I wrong?

STANDING ALONE
DEAR STANDING: You were justified in feeling that you were not being treated fairly, but you'd have been wise to have said nothing. The daughter versus the daughter-in-law competition is as old as the marriage law, and you won't win that battle in one round.

DEAR ABBY: There is a boy in my neighborhood who used to like me, but he hasn't paid any attention to me for a whole year. Would it be all right if I called him up and asked him what I did to make him mad at me? I have asked all the kids he is friendly with if they know why he hardly ever says "hi" to me, and they say they don't know. Maybe if I could talk to him I could get him interested in me again. I am 15 and so is he.

HUNG UP ON HIM
DEAR HUNG UP: Don't call him. And unless you want to kill any future interest he may have in you, don't ask his friends any questions about him. Forward females finish last.

A CLERGYMAN

DEAR ABBY: I read your column daily. May I comment on the "baby sitting" issue?

When young people refuse to "sit" for their parents, or demand payment from their parents for this service, it is the PARENTS who have failed, not the children. They should have been taught respect for their elders at an early age.

Catholic Vets To Support Rights Law

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Catholic War Veterans of the U. S. A. have gone on record as supporting the recently passed civil rights law.

A resolution adopted at the opening of the organization's 29th convention Wednesday asked members to "deny any demagoguery which would divide the nation and pit one race against the other."

In another action the 4,500 delegates supported a resolution aimed at Fidel Castro's Cuba. It urged the Johnson administration and Congress to permit and help establish a Cuban government-in-exile in Latin America and to give Cuban exiles "full land, sea and air power to sustain their combat activities and forays against Castro's forces."

The convention opposed the removal of the words "under God" from the U. S. Pledge of Allegiance.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was scheduled to address the convention at an afternoon session. The conference ends Sunday.

Ohio Urged To Resume Truck Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe advised Ohio's Public Utilities Commission today to start charging Kentucky truckers its $20-$30 tax for operating in this state.

The chairman for the three-member commission, Carl R. Johnson, is attending a utility commissioners' conference in Maine all this week, and Commissioner Kenneth B. Johnston, is recovering from surgery. J. Warren Bettis, the third commissioner, said no action would be taken until all can confer, probably next week.

Ohio has waived the utilities fee for Kentucky truckers operating in this state for more than a decade. When changes in the reciprocal arrangement were made in 1955 after a Supreme Court decision, the waiver was continued despite Kentucky's charging Ohio truckers a filing fee.

In return for its utility fee, Ohio gives truckers a windshield decal.

This is just one aspect of reciprocity differences between the two states which led Saxbe to threaten cancellation of reciprocal arrangements with Kentucky. If this happens, truckers from each state would have to but the other state's license plates.

Last week, Kentucky officials stated in writing that an attempt would be made when their legislature meets again in 1966 either to consolidate the basic registration for license tags and added weight tax for trucks for get the motor transportation commissioner the authority to exclude Ohio trucks.

Kentucky made the offer in good faith, Saxbe said today, "but there's many a slip between the cup and the lip—their legislature doesn't meet until 1966."

The matter of license tag reciprocity will be kept open, he added.

At the heart of the matter is Ohio's axle-mile tax on big trucks. It cannot be waived, and Ohio contends such things as Kentucky's added weight tax against Ohio truckers in retaliation.

The PUC fee which Saxbe advises restoring is $20 a year on trucks, $30 on commercial tractors and $4 a seat for buses.

Those Piles of Surprises Keep His Lawn Unmowed

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP)—This little Greene County college town, recently the scene of a year-long hair-cutting controversy which went all the way to the Ohio Supreme Court, has another scrap on tap.

This time it concerns grass cutting. Whitehall Drive residents complained bitterly to police that Dr. James W. Bradley, psychologist at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base's Aerospace Medical Research Laboratory, was allowing his lawn to resemble a hay field.

Dr. Bradley, admitting he was "mildly piqued," said: "I'll mow my lawn eventually, but not to keep the neighbors happy while their pets are fertilizing my yard."

He expressed the reasons for his displeasure in a two-column 4 1/2-inch advertisement in the weekly Yellow Springs News—to wit:

"Neighbors on Whitehall Drive.

"Last week you complained to Chief McKee (Yellow Springs Police Chief James McKee) that the length of my grass offended you. You are right — it was grievously long.

"It was unmowed partly because of the consequences to be feared when a power mower inadvertently encounters a wet pile of manure left by one of your many dogs and cats. I have counted 57 such potential surprises on my lawn.

"If you will reclaim your property, I will mow my lawn. Then neither of us will offend the other."

Dr. Bradley said: "None of the neighbors has accepted my offer."

Chief McKee, who served a "Mow your lawn" order under a village ordinance, said he was sympathetic with Dr. Bradley after seeing the condition of the lawn and had suggested that he file charges against the pet owners.

"And I might just do that," said Bradley, a non-pet owner.

Youth Counselors To Pinch Ohio Staff

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federal youth counselor program will further stretch his already slim staff, Administrator Willard P. Dudley of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation says.

Dudley says he has no quarrel with jobs for youth and proper counselling. But he said he is protesting the setting up of centers in Columbus, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Akron, Youngstown, Canton, Dayton and Toledo, which his staff must direct. The job should be done within existing BUC facilities, Dudley contends.

Those Piles of Surprises Keep His Lawn Unmowed

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP)—This little Greene County college town, recently the scene of a year-long hair-cutting controversy which went all the way to the Ohio Supreme Court, has another scrap on tap.

This time it concerns grass cutting. Whitehall Drive residents complained bitterly to police that Dr. James W. Bradley, psychologist at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base's Aerospace Medical Research Laboratory, was allowing his lawn to resemble a hay field.

Dr. Bradley, admitting he was "mildly piqued," said: "I'll mow my lawn eventually, but not to keep the neighbors happy while their pets are fertilizing my yard."

He expressed the reasons for his displeasure in a two-column 4½-inch advertisement in the weekly Yellow Springs News—to wit:

"Neighbors on Whitehall Drive.

"Last week you complained to Chief McKee (Yellow Springs Police Chief James McKee) that the length of my grass offended you. You are right — it was grievously long.

"It was unmowed partly because of the consequences to be feared when a power mower inadvertently encounters a wet pile of manure left by one of your many dogs and cats. I have counted 57 such potential surprises on my lawn.

"If you will reclaim your property, I will mow my lawn. Then neither of us will offend the other."

Dr. Bradley said: "None of the neighbors has accepted my offer."

Chief McKee, who served a "Mow your lawn" order under a village ordinance, said he was sympathetic with Dr. Bradley after seeing the condition of the lawn and had suggested that he file charges against the pet owners.

"And I might just do that," said Bradley, a non-pet owner.

Book Notes Listed by Librarian

Mrs. Wilmina Wolford, Pickaway County librarian, today listed a brief review of eight new volumes recently added to the shelves of the library.

The librarian also reported that 8,516 books were circulated from the main library during July. She added that the library now has a total of 70,765 volumes on hand.

The following "book notes" were prepared by Mrs. Wolford. "Ohio Scenes and Citizens" by Grace Goulder, provides seventeen engrossing chapters about the Ohio years of many familiar names of American history.

"Robert Frost" by Jean Gould — the writing of Jean Gould's book was begun about a year before Robert Frost's death. In front of the wood fire in his little cottage high on a Vermont hillside, she was fortunate in obtaining fresh material about his outlook on life directly from the past.

"Julian" by Gore Vidal, first novel in ten years, is a compelling biography of the fourth century Roman Emperor, Julian the Apostate, whose attempt to stop Christianity has never been forgotten. His story is told with grace and fire.

"The Rector of Justin" by Louis Auchincloss is without question the most ambitious novel yet attempted, it is a full-depth portrait of a rector-headmaster founder of a New England Episcopal boys' school. In this story of a man's whole life from schoolboy to death at 85; a life span moves before us with the majesty of the real thing. "The Rector of Justin" can thus be called a classic in the old, noble sense of the word.

"The 480" by Eugene Burdick is the story of an extraordinary presidential campaign of unwanted fame and public responsibility thrust upon a very private citizen. The "new underground" in American politics has divided the electorate into 480 groups for purposes of identification — so says Eugene Burdick, world famous novelist of the best sellers, "Fail-safe" and "The Ugly American".

"I Was Castro's Prisoner" by John Martino — ordinary American boarded a plane for a business trip to Cuba in July 1959. Castro's terrorist G-2 men arrested John Martino — they had the wrong man and charges were false, but John Martino ill and frequently near death stayed in prison for more than three years! This is the first eye witness story of Castro's Cuba, by a man who wasn't supposed to be there.

"Death of the Thresher" by Norman Polmar — tells, for the first time, the full story of the events leading up to the worst submarine disaster in history.

"This Is Eric Sevareid" by Eric Sevareid. These remarkable, highly original articles were written between 1955 and 1964. Some are angry comments on our time, some mordant and funny, and others profoundly moving, but all are the skillful and perceptive expressions of a

Computer Helps To Speed Justice

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The wheels of justice grind faster in Allegheny County these days thanks to a computer and a man whose mind, associates say, works like one.

The system is the brainchild of Judge Henry Ellenbogen, Vienna-born president judge of the Allegheny County Common Pleas Court.

The court, with 19 judges and 204 fulltime employees, is the eighth largest metropolitan court in the United States.

Oppressed by the heavy backlog of civil cases such as plague courts across the country, Ellenbogen ordered a study of the problem soon after becoming president judge less than two years ago.

He said the need of a computer to speed administrative tasks became apparent almost immediately.

The computer operation began in October 1963 with an order from Judge Ellenbogen that thereafter all attorneys would have to fill out special cards for each case. Each attorney also was assigned a number.

Since then the case backlog has been reduced by one-third with the definite possibility it soon may be eliminated.

At the start of the program, there were 8,000 cases pending. There are now 5,559. The time lapse between when a case is filed and when it is finally settled has been reduced from 3½ years to two.

Judge Ellenbogen said the computer enables the court to know in a matter of minutes the complete history of any case and in a matter of hours the complete breakdown on the number and types of cases pending or the number of cases a single lawyer or law firm is handling.

In the past, the judge said, such statistical information would have been impossible to obtain.

Charles Starrett Jr., administrative assistant to Judge Ellenbogen, said the Allegheny County system is unique in that it follows a case from start to finish. Computers are in use in other cities, he said, mainly to record phases of cases or isolated statistics such as a fee.

Despite the computer, there has been little effect on employment, according to Starrett. Employees who used to have to dig through the files to compile these lists, now have been trained to run the computer.

Judge Ellenbogen graduated from Duquesne University Law School and went into private practice in Pittsburgh. He served three terms in Congress from 1932 until his election in 1938 to his first 10-year term on the Common Pleas bench.

Of the use of a computer in court work, the judge said: "I believe we are on the threshold of a great and basic reform in court administration."

Book Notes Listed by Librarian

Mrs. Wilmina Wolford, Pickaway County librarian, today listed a brief review of eight new volumes recently added to the shelves of the library.

The librarian also reported that 8,516 books were circulated from the main library during July. She added that the library now has a total of 70,765 volumes on hand.

The following "book notes" were prepared by Mrs. Wolford. "Ohio Scenes and Citizens" by Grace Goulder, provides seventeen engrossing chapters about the Ohio years of many familiar names of American history.

"Robert Frost" by Jean Gould — the writing of Jean Gould's book was begun about a year before Robert Frost's death. In front of the wood fire in his little cottage high on a Vermont hillside, she was fortunate in obtaining fresh material about his outlook on life directly from the past.

"Julian" by Gore Vidal, first novel in ten years, is a compelling biography of the fourth century Roman Emperor, Julian the Apostate, whose attempt to stop Christianity has never been forgotten. His story is told with grace and fire.

"The Rector of Justin" by Louis Auchincloss is without question the most ambitious novel yet attempted, it is a full-depth portrait of a rector-headmaster founder of a New England Episcopal boys' school. In this story of a man's whole life from schoolboy to death at 85; a life span moves before us with the majesty of the real thing. "The Rector of Justin" can thus be called a classic in the old, noble sense of the word.

"The 480" by Eugene Burdick is the story of an extraordinary presidential campaign of unwanted fame and public responsibility thrust upon a very private citizen. The "new underground" in American politics has divided the electorate into 480 groups for purposes of identification — so says Eugene Burdick, world famous novelist of the best sellers, "Fail-safe" and "The Ugly American".

"I Was Castro's Prisoner" by John Martino — ordinary American boarded a plane for a business trip to Cuba in July 1959. Castro's terrorist G-2 men arrested John Martino — they had the wrong man and charges were false, but John Martino still and frequently near death stayed in prison for more than three years! This is the first eye witness story of Castro's Cuba, by a man who wasn't supposed to be there.

"Death of the Thresher" by Norman Polmar — tells, for the first time, the full story of the events leading up to the worst submarine disaster in history.

"This Is Eric Sevareid" by Eric Sevareid. These remarkable, highly original articles were written between 1955 and 1964. Some are angry comments on our time, some mordant and funny, and others profoundly moving, but all are the skillful and perceptive expressions of a

Computer Helps To Speed Justice

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The wheels of justice grind faster in Allegheny County these days thanks to a computer and a man whose mind, associates say, works like one.

The system is the brainchild of Judge Henry Ellenbogen, Vienna-born president judge of the Allegheny County Common Pleas Court.

The court, with 19 judges and 204 fulltime employees, is the eighth largest metropolitan court in the United States.

Oppressed by the heavy backlog of civil cases such as plague courts across the country, Ellenbogen ordered a study of the problem soon after becoming president judge less than two years ago.

He said the need of a computer to speed administrative tasks became apparent almost immediately.

The computer operation began in October 1963 with an order from Judge Ellenbogen that thereafter all attorneys would have to fill out special cards for each case. Each attorney also was assigned a number.

Since then the case backlog has been reduced by one-third with the definite possibility it soon may be eliminated.

At the start of the program, there were 8,000 cases pending. There are now 5,559. The time lapse between when a case is filed and when it is finally settled has been reduced from 3½ years to two.

Judge Ellenbogen said the computer enables the court to know in a matter of minutes the complete history of any case and in a matter of hours the complete breakdown on the number and types of cases pending or the number of cases a single lawyer or law firm is handling.

In the past, the judge said, such statistical information would have been impossible to obtain.

Charles Starrett Jr., administrative assistant to Judge Ellenbogen, said the Allegheny County system is unique in that it follows a case from start to finish. Computers are in use in other cities, he said, mainly to record phases of cases or isolated statistics such as a fee.

Despite the computer, there has been little effect on employment, according to Starrett. Employees who used to have to dig through the files to compile these lists, now have been trained to run the computer.

Judge Ellenbogen graduated from Duquesne University Law School and went into private practice in Pittsburgh. He served three terms in Congress from 1932 until his election in 1938 to his first 10-year term on the Common Pleas bench.

Of the use of a computer in court work, the judge said: "I believe we are on the threshold of a great and basic reform in court administration."

Little League All-Stars Sweep Two-night Twin Bill

Circleville's Little League All-Stars, thanks to solid relief pitching, won both games of their doubleheader with Pierce Cleaners, 6-4 and 20-1, at Ted Lewis Park.

In the first game, Bryce Brown started for Circleville. Pierce batters took a liking to his offerings and after allowing four runs in the first inning, he left the mound with the bases loaded and two out. Andy Blanton relieved him and struck out the next batter to retire the side.

Blanton stayed in the game and after Circleville runners crossed the plate six times in the bottom of the first inning, he was declared the winner.

Brown walked three batters, fanned one and allowed four runs in two hits in the first game. Blanton walked two, threw three strikes past six batters and allowed two hits in the five innings he pitched.

IN CIRCLEVILLE'S first inning, Rod Kasler led off with a walk. Dick Walters tagged a single, Ty Ankrom hit a double and Mike Yates followed with a homerun, to tie the score.

Paul Tassler then Andy Blanton scored the final runs of the game.

Nonebrake was the pitcher for Pierce Brothers. After the shaky first inning, in which he allowed the locals four hits, he permitted a lone safety in the fifth inning.

He walked four batters and fanned five in the sixth innings he worked. Hageman paced his team at the plate with two hits in four turns.

The second game, after a grand slam homerun by Mike Yates in the first inning, turned into a rout for Circleville.

Pierce Brothers managed a single score in the third inning off winning pitcher, Bryce Brown. The local stars, who smashed 15 hits, scored four in the first inning, eight in the second and eight runs in the fifth inning.

Yates hit a grand slammer and a single to pace his team at the plate. Walters tagged a homerun and a triple, Kelly Barthelmas lashed a homer and a double and Ron Stevens hit a triple.

Metzmier and Schmitter teamed up to hurl the game for the losers.

Next game for the Circleville Little League All-Stars will be 8:30 p. m. Friday at Chillicothe against Dennis Builders.

Willie Mays Goes to Bat For His Boss

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"I shouldn't be playing," said Willie Mays. "I'm doing it only to help the manager."

It's a cinch Willie wasn't doing it for the New York Mets. The San Francisco Giants' star center fielder showed up at Shea Stadium Wednesday night nursing a heavy cold and when Manager Alvin Dark made out his line-up, Mays wasn't in it.

But five minutes before game time Willie decided to play. The Say-Hey Kid then clouted two home runs — his 30th and 31st of the season — and the Giants coasted to a 4-1 victory over the Mets.

"These guys are trying to get Dark fired," Mays said. "I've got to help the man." Mays came to his manager's defense the best way he knew how — with his bat.

Dark's position as manager was reportedly shaky following racial remarks attributed to him which appeared in Long Island newspaper. Dark denied the quotes to reporters Tuesday and then held a club meeting to explain his position to the players Wednesday.

The power show whipped the Mets but didn't help the Giants in the National League pennant race. Despite winning, San Francisco fell two games back of the Philadelphia Phillies, who swept a two-night doubleheader from Houston 4-1 and 2-1. St. Louis topped Chicago 4-2, Milwaukee downed Cincinnati 6-3 and Pittsburgh edged Los Angeles 4-3 in other NL games.

In the American League, Kansas City routed New York 10-1, Detroit defeated Chicago 3-1 in 13 innings, Cleveland blanked Washington 9-0, Minnesota whacked Boston 6-1 and Los Angeles shut out Baltimore 1-0.

The three homers were the first hit by the Giants in Shea Stadium this year.

Ron Herbel went the distance for San Francisco, scattering six hits to win his eighth game.

Richie Allen's leadoff homer in the ninth inning gave the Phillies the second game after sacrifice flies had produced three runs in the opener. Allen tagged reliever Hal Woodeshick's first pitch in the ninth for his 19th homer.

Pinch hitter Cookie Rojas drove in Tony Taylor with the winning run in the seventh inning of the opener. Taylor, who had knocked in the first Phillies' run in the second, tripled and scored on Rojas' sacrifice fly. Philadelphia wrapped it up with two in the eighth.

Babe Ruth Stars Set for Tourney

Circleville's Babe Ruth All-Stars will play their first tournament game of the year Saturday when they participate in the Grove City Tournament.

The local Stars are scheduled to play 12:30 p. m. Saturday on diamond No. 1 in Grove City with the Columbus H's furnishing the opposition.

Winner of the game will play 5:30 p. m. Sunday at the same place.

The Circleville All-Stars will meet at Ted Lewis Park 10:30 a. m. Saturday. Persons wishing to follow the team are urged to report with the players.

Trainer Irv Fountain of Dartmouth handled three Ivy League championship teams during 1963-64 — football, hockey and lacrosse.

Ebenhack Drives Miss Delightful To Double Win

Yesterday's race card at the Pickaway County Fair produced a trio of double winners.

Emmitt Ebenhack reined Miss Delightful to wins in both heats of the first race while Apache Girl turned the trick in the second race with Al Hanners in the sulky.

The third race, split into two divisions because of the large field, saw Goldie Ballard, driven by Paul Norris, win the trophy blanket by posting a winning time of 2:14 in the last heat of the day.

Scotover, with Don Miller in the sulky, won the first heat of the first division of the third race while Hill Top Bell won the second. Goldie Ballard was a double winner in the second division, although the time of 2:20 was far from fast in the first start.

Ebenhack handled Miss Delightful who is owned jointly by the Vallery brothers of Waverly and McKinley Kirk of Washington C. H. in much the same manner in both races.

SCORING from the No. 7 pole position along the rail and directly behind Sissy Long, Ebenhack chose to trail the locally owned mare for three-quarters of the mile.

He made his bid as he entered the last turn, and was on top by the time he reached the stretch, holding that lead right to the wire. The winning time was 2:07.

Ebenhack Drives Miss Delightful To Double Win

Yesterday's race card at the Pickaway County Fair produced a trio of double winners.

Emmitt Ebenhack reined Miss Delightful to wins in both heats of the first race while Apache Girl turned the trick in the second race with Al Hanners in the sulky.

The third race, split into two divisions because of the large field, saw Goldie Ballard, driven by Paul Norris, win the trophy blanket by posting a winning time of 2:14 in the last heat of the day.

Scotover, with Don Miller in the sulky, won the first heat of the first division of the third race while Hill Top Bell won the second. Goldie Ballard was a double winner in the second division, although the time of 2:20 was far from fast in the first start.

Ebenhack handled Miss Delightful who is owned jointly by the Valley brothers of Waverly and McKinley Kirk of Washington C. H. in much the same manner in both races.

SCORING from the No. 7 pole position along the rail and directly behind Sissy Long, Ebenhack chose to trail the locally owned mare for three-quarters of the mile.

He made his bid as he entered the last turn, and was on top by the time he reached the stretch, holding that lead right to the wire. The winning time was 2:07.

Little League All-Stars

Sweep Two-night Twin Bill

Circleville's Little League All-Stars, thanks to solid relief pitching, won both games of their doubleheader with Pierce Cleaners, 6-4 and 20-1, at Ted Lewis Park.

In the first game, Bryce Brown started for Circleville. Pierce batters took a liking to his offerings and after allowing four runs in the first inning, he left the mound with the bases loaded and two out. Andy Blanton relieved him and struck out the next batter to retire the side.

Blanton stayed in the game and after Circleville runners crossed the plate six times in the bottom of the first inning, he was declared the winner.

Brown walked three batters, fanned one and allowed four runs in two hits in the first inning. Blanton walked two, threw three strikes past six batters and allowed two hits in the five innings he pitched.

IN CIRCLEVILLE'S first inning, Rod Kasler led off with a walk. Dick Walters tagged a single, Ty Ankrom hit a double and Mike Yates followed with a homerun, to tie the score.

Paul Tassler then Andy Blanton scored the final runs of the game. Nonebrake was the pitcher for Pierce Brothers. After the shaky first inning, in which he allowed the locals four hits, he permitted a lone safety in the fifth inning.

He walked four batters and fanned five in the sixth innings he worked. Hageman paced his team at the plate with two hits in four turns.

The second game, after a grand slam homerun by Mike Yates in the first inning, turned into a rout for Circleville.

Pierce Brothers managed a single score in the third inning off winning pitcher, Bryce Brown. The local stars, who smashed 15 hits, scored four in the first inning, eight in the second and eight runs in the fifth inning.

BROWN hurled the initial three innings, fanning seven batters and allowing two hits. Paul Tassler pitched the last half of the game and held the losers to one hit. He threw three strikes past four batters.

Yates hit a grand slammer and a single to pace his team at the plate. Walters tagged a homerun and a triple, Kelly Barthelmas lashed a homer and a double and Ron Stevens hit a triple.

Metzmier and Schmitter teamed up to hurl the game for the losers.

Next game for the Circleville Little League All-Stars will be 8:30 p. m. Friday at Chillicothe against Dennis Builders.

'Greatest Sports Thrill'

Wes Fesler Recalls Day in 1950 When His Bucks Won Rose Bowl

By WES FESLER
(For The Associated Press)

As a boy in Youngstown, Ohio, I was a sports nut.

No one could have sought more opportunities to compete in the sport-of-the season than I did—nor could anyone have enjoyed the competition more.

I was fortunate to have a wonderful father who encouraged me at every turn. He was as fanatic about having me participate as I was to do so—football in the fall, basketball and skating in the winter (this used to drive my basketball coach at South High out of his mind, but I couldn't simply sit around all Saturday afternoon waiting for toss-up time Saturday night), baseball, track and tennis in the spring and summer.

And of course, any sports magazines, articles, books, etc., were continually being strewn all over my room, causing considerable and frequent consternation with Mother.

All in all, I guess the family and the neighbors considered me a rather active and sometimes undesirable member of the community.

At any rate, as a youngster in knee pants, I wasn't dreaming about much other than becoming a real honest-to-goodness athletic hero — and my fondest dream was that maybe someday I might possibly play in a Rose Bowl game.

That dream never became a reality. However, something even better took its place.

Unquestionably, my greatest personal thrill in many years of sports activities came on Jan. 2, 1950.

Yes, as I stood on the sidelines that Rose Bowl day, with my Ohio State team lined up against Pappy Waldorf's University of California team, a lot of years in retrospect flashed through my mind.

I was an Ohio boy who had proudly represented his state university in many athletic events. And now here I was directing the activities of my alma mater's football team in the ultimate of football contests—the Rose Bowl game. And even more proud was I in the fact that every boy representing Ohio was an Ohio boy.

Win or lose, this day would have to go down in my book as my big thrill.

(Editor's note: Wes and his boys won it—17-14.)

Dem Leader Says Rhodes Is Reckless

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The minority leader of the State Senate says Gov. James A. Rhodes is engaging in reckless spending through bond issue while intending to present a balanced budget to the next legislature.

Democratic Sen. Frank King of Toledo charged Wednesday that "Gov. Rhodes is bonding the state to death—placing the burden of today's public improvements on tomorrow's generations."

King criticized Rhodes for indicating that he may ask the voters to approve another bond issue while stating that he intends to present a balanced 1965-67 budget to the 106th General Assembly convening in January.

Rhodes said Tuesday that the budget submitted to the next legislature will be balanced and will not require new or additional taxes.

Rhodes had said Monday there is "nothing concrete" at this time about a $250-$300 million bond issue proposal next year to carry out the master higher education plan of Ohio's new Board of Regents. Such an issue has been discussed recently.

Since Rhodes assumed office in January 1962, voters have approved a $250 million bond issue for capital improvements and a $500 million bond issue for highways.

He chose white petunias not only because they were cool and frosty looking, but also because the schedule called for white flowers.

Fair's Junior Flower Show Surpasses All Expectations

By MRS. ELIZABETH JONES

The Pickaway County Fair Flower Show committee was in something of a tizzy when Junior gardeners showed up with more than 50 entries Wednesday. An extra table had to be procured to hold the overflow.

Dennis Shaw, 568 N. Pickaway St., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shaw, was awarded Best-of-Show for his entry in the "Frosty Winter Day" class. Dennis, who says he has not been arranging very long, admitted he gave quite a lot of thought to his arrangement.

In his mind's eye he could see frosted branches but he could not figure out how to frost them until he saw a winning exhibit in Tuesday's show. He went home and frosted his branches with parafin and also put a coating of frost on the flat stone which served as a base for his winning entry.

Mrs. Donald Watt, associate judge, Ohio Assn. of Garden Clubs, served as judge for the Junior Flower Show in the Coliseum. Mrs. Watt gave each exhibitor helpful hints concerning entries.

MRS. WATT said she thought the flower show was a fine junior exhibit. She felt, however, that the youngsters needed more training in hardening flowers to be used in artistic arrangements.

The youngsters appeared interested in the judging comments and several reported to their mothers what Mrs. Watt had told them about their entries.

Other winners in the artistic section were: Class 1 — "New Spring Bonnet" — 1. Brian Dunkel; 2. Roxanne Swank; 3. Janne Reynolds; Class 2 — "Summer Dawn" 1. Roxanne Swank;

2. Rachel Fenstermaker; 3. Faith Justice; Class 3 — "Autumn Bounty" — 1. Patricia Brackett; 2. Janne Reynolds; 3. Stewart Jones.
Class 4 — "Frosty Winter Day" — 1. Dennis Shaw; 2. Roxanne Swank; 3. Rachel Fenstermaker; Class 5 — "One for Fun" — 1. Rozane Swank; 2. Faith Justice; 3. Rachel Fenstermaker.

In the horticultural division, winners included: Class 1 — Zinnias, large flowered — 1. Brian Dunkel; 2. Debbie Archer; 3. Darlene Collins; Class 2 — Zinnias, small flowered, pompon — 1. Faith Justice; 2. Donna Straley; 3. Karen Spires; Class 3 — Marigolds, African — 1. Karen Spires; 2. Brian Dunkel; Class 4 — Marigolds, French — 1. Karen Spires; 2. Brian Dunkel; 3. Karl Spires.

Blonde Teacher Turns Trucker

NEW YORK (AP) — The buxom blonde crossed her dungaree-clad legs, tilted the peaked cap to shadow her baby-blue eyes, and explained why she switched from teaching music to driving a truck: "I was getting stale."

She is Miss Jeanie Manning, 26, 5 feet 3 inches tall, 122 pounds, and 38-25-36. Wednesday was her first day on the job with the National Auto Renting Co., and her first assignment was taking a 9-ton, 20-foot truck from the main terminal to a garage warehouse.

She has been doing this on trial solo runs for the past week and had her hectic moments. In the Midtown Tunnel from Manhattan to Queens there had been an accident in the tube, and she "skimmed the side of the tunnel," swerving the big truck around stalled vehicles.

Another day, on 10th Avenue, "I lost the second gear. So while I was figuring where it was, all around me was traffic and the din of horns. But I found it."

A native of Kingsville, Tex., the young woman's real surname is Meurer. She was born in San Antonio and was graduated from The Texas College of Arts and Industries with a degree in music.

She came to New York six years ago with theatrical aspirations. That's why, she said, she changed her last name.

For three years she taught music and English in Oceanside on Long Island. But she also worked in an electronics factory, a dance studio, a handbag factory, and cocktail lounges.

Dem Leader Says Rhodes Is Reckless

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The minority leader of the State Senate says Gov. James A. Rhodes is engaging in reckless spending through bond issue while intending to present a balanced budget to the next legislature.

Democratic Sen. Frank King of Toledo charged Wednesday that "Gov. Rhodes is bonding the state to death—placing the burden of today's public improvements on tomorrow's generations."

King criticized Rhodes for indicating that he may ask the voters to approve another bond issue while stating that he intends to present a balanced 1965-67 budget to the 106th General Assembly convening in January.

Rhodes said Tuesday that the budget submitted to the next legislature will be balanced and will not require new or additional taxes.

Rhodes had said Monday there is "nothing concrete" at this time about a $250-$300 million bond issue proposal next year to carry out the master higher education plan of Ohio's new Board of Regents. Such an issue has been discussed recently.

Since Rhodes assumed office in January 1962, voters have approved a $250 million bond issue for capital improvements and a $500 million bond issue for highways.

FROSTY WINTER DAY — Here is Dennis Shaw who was awarded Best-of-Show for his artistic arrangement depicting winter. Dennis said the branches and evergreen came from his own home and the flowers from his grandmothers. His container originally was a frosty blue cottage cheese glass which contributed to the winter effect. He chose white petunias not only because they were cool and frosty looking, but also because the schedule called for white flowers.
